Were it not true that the democrate have een so long deharred from the offices, and are so bungry that they are spurred on to a ration to with and are willing to possible, Hancock would have only a half support from a great majority of the party. There is nothing in his past history to pire the masses of the party by which he mineted with any degree of enthusiasm. In the solidly democratic sts as prejudice politically very sees which which made Gen. Hancock what he is. But in the pres-ent political status of the country the nomination cannot be regarded but as one likely to prove as strong as any the democrats could have made unless they had come bodily over to the republican party and nominated Carthe first place it is idle to talk about any of the southern states going republican; mocratic candidate will get all of them and would if he were not one hundredth part as good a man as Hancock. Hancock will probably get as many votes there is no reason, however, why any month in Oregon as any of the prominent candidates lican should falter in his devotion to his at Cincinnati would have received in case of Gen. Garfield has shown him on on which the issues before the country 1800. to-day are based, those opinions are not known and he will be known in the converse as the representative not of any well defined principle, but of the men who want the offices. With a united republican party, he will stand after the Noember elections as the representative of those who are still in want. The last and we believe the only time before this when the Jamouracy had a general for a candidate for the presidency, they were disastronsly routed. The republicans have the patent on tham in this respect.

Biographically, Ges. Hancock is recorded.

Gen Garfield's vote on the Willis fifteen bill, needs no defense in the mind intelligent men. The measure was not a Pacific coast, measure at all. It sought to violate a treaty which under the law of nations is a great diagrace to an government, and was doubtless contrary to the constitution. Like a statement, Gen. Gat-field proposes to accomplish a desirable end in a legitimate way, and not in a way to dishonor the American government. And moreover, he die not propose to vote for a bill the passage of which propose to vote for a bill the passage of which occasion of the propose to vote for a bill the passage of which occasion of the propose to vote for a bill the passage of which occasion of the propose to vote for a bill the passage of which occasion of the propose to vote for a bill the passage of which occasion of the propose to vote for a bill the passage of which occasion of the propose to vote for a bill the passage of which occasion of the propose to vote for a bill the passage of which occasion of the propose to vote for a bill the passage of which occasion occasion of the propose to vote for a bill the passage of which occasion occasi t was the real purpose of Willis' bill which would have accomplished nothing in the way of removing the evil of Chinese immigration

In 1872 Henry McComb of Delawars, who had been a partner in all the Pacific railroad rangactions with Oakes Ames, brought suit in a Pennsylvania court against var.ous par-ties for a settlement of accounts. Among the papere filed was a letter from Oakes Ames, stating that he had distoud of certain than of the Credit Mobilier stock to certain presons indicated by initials on a list, and McComb explained that these initials indicated certain persons, as follows:

J. G. Bisine, $3000; Segator Patterson, $3000; Beautor Wilson, $3000; S. Coliaz, $1000; Ellist of Massachusetts, $3000; Dawes of Massachusetts, $2000; Benwell of Massachusetts, $2000; Benwell of Massachusetts, $2000; Bingham and Garfield of Obic, 800-field and Kelley of; Pennsylvania, Fowler of Tennessee.

At the meeting of congress in December, 1872 on motion of Mr. Blaine a committee was appointed to examine and report the facts of the case. Of this committee Judge Poland of Vermon; was the chairman. The committee took fall evidence of all the par-ties implicated, and of other persons. As the ments of their investigation they reported two resolutions, one for the expulsion of Oakes Ames and the other for the exculsion of James Brooks. The whole testimony in the case so far as it related to Mr. Garfield, was given by Oakes Ames.

med up, the testimony is the Ames made a memorandum that $1000 of this stock in his hands was held for Garfield; that the stock earned $13.29; that he pail Garfield $3.29—the surplus after paying for the stock; that during the five years following, though the stock continued to earn divider da, he never delivered the stock itself, nor any dividends, to Garfield, and had never any conversation whatever with him on the subject. coording to Ames, the stock was Garfield's but was never asked for nor delivered, though for years alter it was paying dividends, all of which Ames received and kept to himself. Mr. Gartield's expunation was, that George Frances frain had advised him to invest in the stock, but he had declined; that, in whot of money, he obtained a loan of $300 from Ames, which loan he subsequently paid.
Ames said he paid Garneld $3.50; Carfield seid he borrowed $300. As Amea kept the stock which he said belonged to Carbaid and all the dividends thereon, and herer thereafter had any equiversation with Garteld on the subject, there is unquestionable room for. the belief that the Manuschous were con-The committee, in its report, easy as follows: The committee, therefore, do not ind. 18 o the members of the present bous shore

And that is the whole story told by the invespigating committee The whole variance between Ames and Garfield was as to whether Ames paid him $320 or whether Ames loaned him $300. In either case Ames declares that Garneld never received any stock or certificates, nor any dividends which the stock earned from 1867 to 1873.

IORN MAGUIRE The report expressly acquits all the persons named-Blaine, Dawes, Scotteld, Bingham, Keller and Garneld-of all corrupt o proper action or complicity in the matter. In that acquittal the democratic members of the or mmittee concurred with the oil ers.

There is no foundation in them, and there is less in the trumped up DEAD or ALIVE! matter concerning the De Golver paving contract, which we will show hereafter. Concerning the transaction with Ames General Garfield wrote in 1873 as follows: be a citizen of the United States who is willing to believe that, for $329, I have partered away my good name, and to falsehood have added porjury, these pages are not addressed to him.
